Sea to Sea Voyageur Reaches Drayton on Way to Pacific

River traffic on the North Saskatchewan has been unusually heavy during the past few days with the arrival here Sunday evening of an ocean to ocean voyageur followed Monday morning by a brigade of four canoes from St. John's Boys School at Genesee.

The cross country canoeist is 36 year old Robert Sanders of New York who left his home base on May 9th with Astoria, Washington as his goal.

The young canoeists from St. John's, 26 boys aged 13 to 18 with two adult leaders, are making the trip from Genesee to Rocky Mountain House to introduce members of the new school to canoeing which will play a large part in their school lives.

The solo canoeist, Bob Sanders, has canoed 4,000 miles of his journey with another 1,000 ahead of him in reaching Astoria. The British voyageur, an executive with Lloyds of London, is living a dream of travelling the old fur routes, a project that has intrigued him for many years.

He is travelling in a 14 - foot aluminun canoe with a six h.p. motor.

His route from New York was up the Hudson River system to the St. Lawrence, to Lake Nipissing, Lake Huron and Lake Superior, the traditional fur trade route through Fort Francis, Kenora, Lake Winnipeg and the North Saskatchewan.

The east - west direction is the more difficult because it is against the current, Mr. Sanders said, and surprised Indian bands at Grand Rapids and Le Pas dubbed him "Mr. Upstream."

The current in the Saskatchewan is becoming increasingly rapid as he progresses westward and Mr. Sanders who planned to leave early Tuesday morning, had his misgivings about the trip ahead from Drayton Valley to Rocky Mountain House. Coupled with the current is low water making it necessary to pull the boat across sand bars.

With fuel for a normal 200 mile trip, Mr. Sanders is concerned about the amount of gas that will be consumed bucking the stiff current and feels this is his major problem in reaching Rocky.

After Rocky Mountain House he will travel across country and put his boat in the water again at Revelstoke for the trip down the Columbia River to Astoria.

Besides his canoe, Mr. Sanders equipment includes tent, sleeping bag, fishing rods, a gun and cooking utensils. His food supply comes mainly from cans which he picks up along the route.

The gun was carried to keep bears at a distance but he has since found fire-crackers to be an effective deterrent.

Wildlife has not been a problem he says, except for one instance when a bear stole one of his packs during a portage and was reluctant to give it up. The fire-crackers convinced the would-be thief of the error of his ways.

On another occasion in Ontario Mr. Sanders pitched his tent in the evening and found himself in the middle of a rattlesnake convention in the morning.

Stream travel was comparatively simple, he said, and most of the hazards found in crossing the large lakes along the route.

Lake Winnipeg is a nightmare for a canoeist, he said. It is shallow, full of rocks and so muddy you can't see an inch below the surface. The wind blows constantly, interspersed with gales, and Mr. Sanders says he breathed a sigh of relief when the crossing was accomplished.

He spent Monday in Drayton Valley obtaining supplies and parts for his motor before pushing off Tuesday. Information about conditions between here and Rocky was provided by Dave Ellery and others acquainted with the river route.

LATE NOTE

After starting Tuesday morning Mr. Sanders found the current too much to contend with and returned to Drayton Valley. He travelled upstream for an hour and a half and made the same distance on the way back in about three minutes.

Mr. Sanders says his gas supply would not enable him to make Rocky Mountain House and with time running out he is unable to make gas caches along the way. He plans now to travel overland to Rocky Mountain House then to Revelstoke to enter the Columbia River and complete his voyage to Astoria.

Mr. Sanders was depressed at being unable to complete the trip by water to Rocky, but at the same time feels that the distance between here and Rocky Mountain House is not too great in comparison to the 4,000 miles already covered.

AUXILLIARY MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary on Thursday, September 12th at 8:00 p.m. in the Nurses Residence. New members most welcome.

M.P. for Rocky Visits Drayton

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sulatycky of Whitecourt were Drayton Valley visitors last Thursday and guests of honor at a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLean. Mr. Sulatycky is the Liberal Member of Parliament for Rocky Mountain Constituency.

A number of residents of town and area were present at the supper to meet Mr. and Mrs. Sulatycky.

The couple had just returned from a visit to Jasper National Park where they accompanied Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Trudeau on a brief weekend holiday.

Mr. Sulatycky is leaving this week for Ottawa and the session of Parliament that starts September 12th.

During the summer the family travelled extensively throughout the constituency that stretches from the U.S. border to the Valleyview area. Mr. Sulatycky is still undecided about a home base from which he can best serve the constituency and will decide in the next few months whether to move his family to Ottawa or not.

Mr. Sulatycky practises law in Whitecourt. The couple have three small children.

Mr. Sulatycky expects to visit Drayton Valley again later this month when he will have more time to meet constituents who may wish to discuss anything with him. The date of his next visit will be printed in The Western Review when the date is confirmed.

Nomination Day Next Wednesday

Nominations for civic offices will be received by Returning officer Bill Johannson between eleven a.m. and twelve noon on Wednesday, September 18th.

The mayor's office is now vacant with one year left of Bob Findlay's term. Terms have also expired for Councillors Henry Shimbashi and Tom Johnston.

Don MacKenzie's term on the Municipal Hospital Board has also expired and nominations will also be received for this post.

Two Separate School Board Trustees will also be nominated with terms ending for Mrs. Elizabeth McGee and Mr. Bert Telford.

Rotary Club Holds Barbeque

A good crowd of members, guests and wives turned out last Wednesday for the Rotary Club's barbeque and golf tournament at the Drayton Valley Golf Course.

All present enjoyed steaks barbequed by a smokey crew of chefs and entertainment during the evening.

Two members of the Barrhead Club, Mr. Dean Waxel and Mr. Hank Wells and their wives, were guests of the Drayton Valley Club for the event.

Bingo Winners

The Legion Jackpot of $190 was won at Saturday's bingo. The prize was split between two winners, Mrs. W. Norquay and Mr. Ron Breton. Both went home $95 richer. The jackpot starts again on Saturday, September 14th with $50 in the kitty.

Kindergarten Resumes Regular Classes

The Drayton Valley community Kindergarten classes commenced on Wednesday, September 4th, in two locations. A morning class, 9:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., taught by Mrs. Jeannette Miner, are being held in the Church of God. A second morning class, also from 9:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., and taught by Mrs. Julie Willner, is being held in a classroom in St. Anthony's school.

Seventy-six children have been registered for the 1968-69 term. Class size is limited to 20 students per class, thus 60 students are being accomodated in three classes. Sixteen children are on the waiting list and more registrations are welcome. The more children on the waiting list, the greater the liklihood of initiating a fourth class.

New registrations will be accepted by Mrs. Woods at 542-3294. To be eligible, a child must be five years of age before December 31st. The Kindergarten is licensed and approved by the Department of Education, and only qualified teachers are hired.

All the parents are asked to support the Executive of the Kindergarten by attending the General Meetings. The first general meeting will be on Monday, September 16th at 8:30 p.m. in the Frank Maddock High School. Mark this date on your calendar and plan to attend.

The Kindergarten is again reminding parents or friends of Kindergarten children that donations of educational books and toys appropriate for five year olds will be greatly appreciated.

Suggested articles are: Books about farm life, animals, home, travel, pets, seasons, transportation, construction, people in other lands, health, community helpers such as the baker, fireman, policeman, etc.; Toys--Educational toys (Take - apart type), plastic farm and zoo animals, big balls, dinky toys, puzzles rhythm band instruments, beads, Indian souvenir crafts, doll clothes for 14" and 10" size dolls, also any doll equipment, play dishes, etc. For safety reasons, the toys should be made either of wood, steel etc., or durable plastic. For further information, please phone Mrs. Woods at 542-3294.

Pembina 4-H Club Holds Plot Tour

The members of the Pembina 4-H Field Crops Club held their plot tour on September 26th. Judging the plots were Mr. Grant Gilland, our district agriculturist; Mr. Dick Lowe, Agricultural Field man; and Mr. Earl Lowe District Agriculturist from Stony Plain.

The club members gathered at the District Agriculturists' office and began the tour from there. In all thirteen plots were judged that day. Some of the parents and the leaders went with the members on the tour.

Lunch was a weiner roast at the Hutchinson farm where there was also a plant identifying contest. Allan Mazeppa won this and was presented with a prize.

The following classes of plots were judged. Junior rod and rows, six plots, one senior rod row fertilizer plot; five intermediate (one to three acre fields) projects and one senior (four acre fertilizer trial) plot project.

The following were the winners in the three classes: Junior rod rows--Zane Bruner; intermediate project--Allan Mazeppa; senior project--Walter Myschuk.

Best first year plot was Zane Bruner's and plot poster was won by Ted Bruner. The members enjoyed the tour and learned many interesting facts about how the plots were scored.

SELECTION FOR YEARLING WEIGHT IN BEEF CATTLE

Consistently heavier cattle can be obtained by selecting solely on the basis of yearling weight. This is indicated by experiments being carried out in two separate beef herds maintained by the Canada Department of Agriculture at Lacombe, Alberta, and at Brandon, Manitoba.

Selection of breeding cattle by weigh scale alone was started in both herds in 1960 and now, eight years later, yearling calves at Lacombe consistently weigh 45 pounds more than yearling calves from a control herd maintained under identical conditions at the same station. In the Brandon herd results are even more impressive because yearlings from the scale-selected herd there consistently outweigh yearlings from the control herd by 50 pounds.

Dr. J. A. Newman, in charge of the Lacombe project outlined the procedures which are the same at both stations. An original herd was broadened by outbreeding to six or more unrelated bulls in 1956 and '57. Then the broadened herd was divided into a selected and a control herd, both of which were closed from that point on. Inbreeding has been contolled by serving fewer cows with each bull. In the control herd genetic change has been all but eliminated. Replacement animals are selected only if they are sound and have average performance. Changes in the performance of the control herds, then, reflect the effects of environmental conditions and management practises. These effects alone have produced consistently heavier weights at both stations.

In the selected herds, by contrast, researchers are attempting a rapid genetic change. Only the 12 heaviest yearling bulls are used for breeding and approximately 20% of the cow herd is replaced by heifers selected for high yearling weight. Since feeding and management in both herds is identical, the selected herd should show the same seasonal trend as the control herd. In addition, selection for high yearling weight accounts for the superiority of the selected herd over the control herd.

Considering seasonal fluctuations in actual performance levels, the selected herd at Lacombe is improving over the control herd at a rate of about 4.7 pounds per year. At Brandon, the rate of improvement is about 9.4 pounds per year. (Since a generation is about 3½ years long under the management system used here , this may be translated into improvement rates of 16.4 pounds per generation at Lacombe and 32.9 pounds per generation at Brandon.)

There are two reasons for the greater improvement rate at Brandon. First, the selected line only separated clearly from the controlled herd in 1963. Thus the improvement took place over a short time. It also appears that the original Brandon herd had more genetic potential for improvement.

While genetics played a major role in the improved performance of the scale-selected herds at both stations, even more important were such factors as management and seasonal flucuations. For these reasons Dr. Newman is reluctant to attribute the better performance of the herd solely to a breeding program without taking into account the effects of other factors. He concludes that better management, rather than genetic selection, has the greater potential for faster and cheaper growth rates.

The research workers involved in the projects, besides Dr. J. A. Newman, are Dr. G. W. Rahnefeld, who directs the work at Brandon; and Dr. H. T. Fredeen, project co-ordinator. All emphasize that these results are specific to these projects since response to selection is influenced by the number of animals available for breeding; the rate of inbreeding; the genetic potential for improvement in the initial herd; and the length of time breeding animals are kept in the herd. The results also indicate that a properly planned selection program for yearling weight in beef cattle would result in commercially useful improvements. This would apply to a fairly large herd within a breed or to the entire breed.

MRS. M. BRUNER,

After the hectic getting away of the boys off to school for the first day, quietness reigns in our household with only two little girls for the better part of the school days. I imagine all other households with school age children feel the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schroder announce the fact that they are proud grandparents again. The new grandchild is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schroder.

People who went on holidays and short trips recently are Mrs. H. Greaves, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. J. Otto. Mr. and Mrs. Otto, on their way back from Drumheller, stopped in at Winfield and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Collinge who have recently moved there where Mr. Collinge will be teaching this coming year.

Visitors at our place were Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller and Mrs. Ray Bruner, all from Coquitlam, B.C. Mrs. Miller is a cousin and Mrs. Bruner is an aunt of the family. While Mrs. Bruner will be staying in Edmonton with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Miller are travelling on to Mexico in their bus.

Back again either at work or at classes are Shirley Hutchinson and Larry Rosadiuk, older members of the 4-H club. These two members won themselves national awards at eliminations week at Olds. Shirley has already gone on her trip to Montana where she reports she had a most enjoyable time. Congratulations, Larry and Shirley.

As mentioned last week, United Church services were due to change soon. The new time for services is 2:30 p.m. beginning on September 15th.

Although the weather has proved much to wet for the gymkhana club to hold their scheduled gymkhanas, they are still planning on holding one as soon as the grounds are fit. Plans are also made for the annual banquet and awards night to be held sometime this fall.

The Volunteer Firemen held their regular monthly meeting last week. They made tentative plans for their annual firemen's ball which will be held in the early winter months.

Along with the school opening excitement, the students are busy preparing for the graduation day which will take place on the 7th.

It's that time again when I must start thinking of Public Health Clinic dates for a few more immunization shots. Busy as ever, the public health nurse will be having the clinic at the Legion hall on Thursday, September 12th.

In just two hours it is possible to learn artificial respiration. Through its "Save a Life" program, St. John Ambulance offers this valuable training free of charge in cities, towns, and villages across Canada.

Lariat Gymkhana Club Holds Trail Class Events

The Lariat Gymkhana Club held their trials for the Trail Class Trophy, on Sunday, September 8th with a disappointing showing of only 12 horses, this we assume was due to inclement weather. The last gymkhana of the season which was to be held also was cancelled due to wet grounds. We hope to have this next Sunday the 15th at 2 p.m weather permitting.

The Trail Class contestants were to follow a course of obstacles such as log pulling, crossing a log pile, backing through a series of barrels and others . The winners were: Adults - Gail Meston; juniors- David Meston. Our trail class judge was Mr. L. Bannard of Drayton Valley and to him we extend out thanks.

Last week I told you to write your complaints to the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs in Ottawa. This week let's read one of their "Consumer Communique's concerning the complaints that they've already received and some of the results. Note how Alberta has so far responded.

"Three and a half months after the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs was born, the now familiar mailing address, "The Consumer, Box 99, Ottawa" was established to receive complaints and enquiries.

Consumers across Canada responded. By the end of May, more than 1,000 had voiced their problems. Complaints were almost as varied as the number of people who wrote, but they pointed up certain areas of major consumer concern.

Trade practises such as misleading advertising and labelling, referral selling, bait and switch tactics, guarantees and warranties, credit, repairs and servicing, accounted by far for the largest proportion of complaints: 64%. Prices followed with 19 %; quality, 14%; quantity, 2% and 1% miscellaneous.

While these were the major categories, complaints covered a wide range of commodities and services. Top among these were food, 26%; automotive, 7%; drugs, 6% and apparel and housing each with 5%. The remaining 51% was spread over other areas, with emphasis on appliances, detergents, carpeting, furniture, electrical fixtures, investments, publications, insurance and transportation.

To illustrate the variety of consumer complaints, here are examples of actual cases from the Consumer Service and Information Division files.

An Ontario consumer had a bad scare when her child nearly fell from its carriage due to a defective harness. When the local retailer proved to be indifferent, the Division contacted the manufacturer. Arrangements were quickly make for repair of a factory defect.

In Quebec a consumer complained about an excessively salty meat product. The company ignored the complaint until the Consumer Service and Information Division approached the processor. The problem was promptly resolved to the consumer's satisfaction.

A British Columbia consumer was dissatisfied with a camera purchased from an Eastern Canadian firm and could obtain no satisfaction from the vendor. After action by the Consumer Service and Information Division, the consumer received a satisfactory replacement.

When an Ontario firm ignored a prepaid mail order for a watch, the consumer wrote the company repeatedly, finally sending a registered letter. Results were nil until the Division contacted the mail order house. The watch was delivered within six days.

Not all cases can be settled with such dispatch. Many problems fall within the jurisdiction of provincial governments and these are referred to the proper authorities. Other incidents may involve contractual agreements into which the consumer has entered without fully understanding his obligation or that of the contracting partner.

The analysis also revealed other interesting facts. Ontario, for example, registered more than one half the complaints. British Columbia accounted for 15% while Quebec, with about one third of the national population submitted only 12% of the complaints. Other provinces were represented to a lesser degree.

Complaints about commodities and services were strongest in the West. Forty-one % from Manitoba and 37% from Alberta concerned food. In Saskatchewan automotive complaints ranked highest while New Brunswick was most concerned with drug problems. Three quarters of the complaints from Nova Scotia involved trade practises. Prices accounted for more than one third of the complaints from Manitoba, and a little more than a quarter from Quebec.

Vol. IV, No. 36 Sept. 11, 1968

School Boys Undertake Canoe Trip To Rocky

Twenty-six boys, aged 13 to 18, and two adult leaders arrived in Drayton Valley Monday morning on their way to Rocky Mountain House by canoe.

The boys are from the new St. John's School at Genesse and the trip is intended to introduce them to the art of canoeing. In command of the expedition are Mr. Keith Bennett and Mr. Harry Kleinhuis, teachers at the school.

After lunch at the bridge the young paddlers struck off again upstream with their four canoes. Because of the speed of the current much of the distance is travelled by lining -- six boys wading in the shallows pulling the canoe upstream while one guides it in the stern.

With eight days left before school resumes, the boys have some heavy slugging ahead before reaching their destination and then the much easier trip home.

All their camping gear and food supplies add to the load and breaking camp and stowing gear is carried out efficiently by the youngsters.

Additional supplies were loaded at Drayton Valley to carry them through to the end of the trip.

PACKERS WIN OPENING GAME

The Drayton Valley Packers our Bantam Football team, competing in the Edmonton City Bantam Football League won the opening game of the 1968 league schedule last Sunday afternoon in Edmonton The Drayton team edged the McCosham Vans 9-2 in a defensive struggle at the Kinsmen's Park.

The Packers led by quarterback, Jay Meraw started strong and had a 7-0 lead piled up before the five minute mark in the first quarter. They marched down the field and got a single point on the first series of downs. The next time they got the ball they went in for the touchdown and six points. Meraw carried across on a close in play for the Packer's major score.

The Vans come charging back and got a single point early in the second quarter. Then late in the first half come the turning point in the game when the Vans were stopped by the Drayton defensive crew on the one yard line. The McCosham squad got a single point in the third quarter but never really got a position for a major score in the second half as the Valley team came up with a stout defence all the way. The Packers were pretty much in command in the last quarter with Bruce Gossel and Jay Meraw both running for long yardage. The Mc Cosham team conceded a safety touch for two points in the dying moments of the game to make the final score read 9-2 in favor of the Packers.

Next Sunday afternoon at Kinsmen's Park in Edmonton the Packers will take on a tough assignment in the Oil Patch Oilers.

HELP NEEDED FOR LITTLE CANADIANS

Things are not quite so rosy in the "Little Canadian" League. The problem is the lack of coaching personnel for the number of teams in this league. Some sixty boys have registered at this level and therefore the league will comprise three teams. At least two more coaches are required if this program is going to be a success. Presently we have four coaches who are working regularly with the boys, however, a minimum of two more are required to make this thing go.

If everything works out favorably, we hope to start regular play at this level this weekend. All games will be played at the Lions West Valley Recreation Park on the new "Little Canadian" field which will be ready for play very shortly.

D.V.A.A. MEETING

The Drayton Valley Athletic Association will hold their monthly meeting on Thursday, September 12th at 8:00 p.m. in the Recreation Office. The outstanding items on the agenda will be the current Minor Football program and preliminary planning and preparation for the 1968-69 hockey season. All interested persons are invited to attend this meeting.

RECREATION BOARD MEETING

The Drayton Valley Recreation Board will hold a special meeting on Monday, September 16th at 8:00 p.m. in the Recreation Office. The Board will meet with a delegation from the D.V. Lions Club to discuss the further development of the West Valley Recreation Park. Also under discussion will be the government grant system.

POOL CLOSING

The D. V. swimming pool will close for the season on Sunday September 15th at 9:00 p.m. The schedule for this week will be public swimming during the late afternoon and evening until 9:00 p.m. Saturday and Sunday the pool will open at 2:00 p.m. and close at 9:00 p.m. excluding the supper hour from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the Stordalsvoll family in its recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Oscar left this week for a holiday on Vancouver Island, Mr. Oscar's mother is keeping her grandsons company during their parent's abscence.

Danny McDonald accompanied the Arvett Ericksons to the Okanagan recently. While there they called on the Peter Gregersons and Eric Edholm in Summerland and the Joe Pawluks and Helmer Johannsons in Lumby. We understand that plans are being make for Arvett and Eric to make a trip to Sweden next spring.

Joe Pawluk had sold out his lumber business at Creston some time ago but could find nothing else to do that he liked as well and is again in the woods.

Isn't it splendid that the Fred Chipchases have come back to Alberta? They have purchased a home in Entwistle so we can expect to see them often.

Dr. and Mrs. Lewis very much enjoyed their holiday in England where they visited family and old friends.

Can you imagine anything more distressing than to be in a strange country, many thousands of miles from home, with no money? Such has been the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Levens, of Australia. Mr. Levens came to Drayton Valley to teach and in the last few miles of his journey his wallet was lost with all his money and traveller's cheques. The Levens can only hope that an honest person has found the wallet and that it will eventually come back to them.

Best wishes for future happiness go to Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Haley, nee Terry Durham.

Miss Sonia Urchyshyn has enrolled at N.A.I.T. where she will take an advanced course in cooking.

Since the weather is too wet to enable them to harvest Mr. and Mrs. Bohdan Urchyshyn are taking a few days to visit Miette Hot Springs, Calgary and Waterton Lakes. Their son, Martin Urchyshyn, and his family live at the latter place.

How wonderful if must be to be a teen ager in Drayton Valley in 1968. So much to do! The latest we've heard about is a Spiritualist Club that has been formed at Frank Maddock High School. My young friend tells me, "A seance was attempted but nothing happened" Better luck next time, kids.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McGinn, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Duckett and Mr. and Mrs. Jules Parenteau joined forces for a trip to remember this summer. Two weeks and four thousand miles later they returned full of praise for the wonders of the north. They made what is called "the loop trip" passing through Whitehorse, Dawson City and continuing into Alaska before swinging around to Whitehorse again. Mrs. Parenteau took rolls and rolls of coloured film as well as buying numerous post cards. The party took in all the well known tourist attractions. They saw the ferry boat named named for the Yukon's famous M.P., George Black, the new Imperial Copper Mine, panned for gold on Bonanza Creek, saw Robert Service's cabin, and also a cabin alleged to have belonged to the fictional character of Service's poem, Sam McGee. A huge collection of road signs at Watson Lake gives the mileage to almost anywhere you'd like to know. The story goes that a lonesome American rookie, far away from home in World War 2, stuck up a board with the name of his home town and a pointing arrow with the mileage and the idea caught on. These travellers, the feminine contingent anyway, like to hunt up their own souverirs, and in a long deserted attic Mrs. Parenteau found a recept for the Dawson City News dated 1902-03. The Old Palace Theatre in Dawson has been restored to its former splendor and features a live show every night. The performance is called "Gas Light Follies" and we are told that Jim McGinn was to be found in the front row every night of his stay. Note: Sorry to be late with this, Anne-no excuse.

The Village was saddened by the news of the death of Mrs. Strass, mother of Mrs. Polly Hofmann. Sympathy of the district is extended to Mrs. Hofmann and the family.

A recent news item in the paper stands to be corrected- Jack Greaves bought a new home not Gertie Smith; we hope it will be an asset to the #57 highway.

Gordon Oliver is back from his summer job and hopes to be able to finish his schooling.

Muriel Sandford, Linda and Kenny spent the weekend at the Oliver home.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and girls went to Calgary for the weekend and brought Debby home with them.

Sandra Hanson, Margaret and Bruce Leyden were in Entwistle for the weekend.

Norman and Lil Hanson went to Medicine Hat for the Labor Day weekend.

Visitors at the Clough home were two sisters of Mrs. Clough's from Edmonton.

Vacational Bible School wound up the week with a programme on Friday August 30th. Everyone enjoyed the concert and saw the things the children had made. Over 100 children attended the school throughout the week. Mr. and Mrs. Koehn and helpers are to be commended on the time and energy they put forth to such an undertaking.
